Shelley Tomkins

Shelley has a diverse breadth of experience, from Safari Lodge management and nature guiding to Logistics and Auditing. Returning to the UK in 2016, having spent 5 years working and travelling around Southern Africa, Shelley settled in the South of England. Attending a youth club during her teenage years, motivated Shelley to take on the running of a small village youth group in order to give back to the community that she now called home. Whilst running the group, Shelley was involved in planning activities for attendees aged between 11 and 18 years old, organised annual fundraising events and supported members with attaining their Duke of Edinburgh awards. Shelley also became an ambassador for other local charities - including the Bruce Trust (a canal boat operator for those with additional needs).

Early in 2021, Shelley made a career move to join a Gloucestershire based firm of Accountants and began working closely with many Academies both for internal assurance and audit engagements. Currently studying towards her chartered accountancy, Shelley is keen to gain wider knowledge and experience both in support of her full time role and to support BKAT. Shelley's focus is on ensuring that every child has access to the resources and support required in order to get the most out of their education and provide them with the most appropriate tools for their journey through life.
